

Hey all, I'm making this quick doc to help explain my side of the recent allegations being made against me as well as hopefully shine some light on the true nature of regnom.

I think it's important to start with some initial context. Before any of the sexual encounters I had known regnom for about a year, and during said year I had no issues at all with him. That was until a few months before our encounter where I had learned that he was lying about his age, making his true age very unclear in most of my friends' heads at the time. As well, I think it's important to clarify that during most of our friendship I was 17, and a little over a week after I turned 18 he approaches me with a very sexually charged conversation out of nowhere.

This was the first message that occurred in the exposal timeline, which was made before i ever thought to ask for his age (keeping in mind i had just turned 18, i really wasnt used to the idea i could get in trouble for speaking to someone the wrong way)

Then immediately 3 minutes after this interaction happened i asked for his age to see if it was alright to continue with anything, of course after learning his real age i told him i cant continue with any further sexual encounters

Yeh ur cute asf :3

(one of many instances of him being pushy with me to try to get me to do something i already told him no for)

Afterwards all of the sexual encounters were completely driven by him, which you can see im actively uncomfortable to participate in being shocked by the things he is saying.

After a while of being incredibly uncomfortable and his repeated attempts to coerce me into having a full on sexual encounter with him i repeatedly shut him down saying that its not ok (ive seen the "i dont see the issue :3" message being used against me when again its just him trying to get me to do something I didn't want to do with him)

Shortly after this happens i finally have enough and put my foot down telling him enough was enough (you can see him still grasping at straws trying to convince me that doing stuff like this with him would be ok)

After this he finally lays off and leaves me alone after I told him 3 separate times that I wasn't interested in doing anything sexual with him.

I will admit i absolutely should have put my foot down much sooner and i will take accountability that i fucked up in that regard, but again keep in mind that i have known this guy for a year prior and i just turned 18, it didnt register to me that something like this could be wrong cuz i hardly even remembered i was an adult yet.

And regnom isn't an innocent person either, he has a LONG history with sexually harassing other women in the community and extremely questionable behavior even beyond that which the rest of this doc will be covering.

As I said before, he has a history of sexually harassing other members of the community, which he has already been exposed for in the past (by nei which was the one person in iilogans dms speaking out about me, if that gives any context to how bad this was) one time when i was playing lethal i was deafened and he begged me to turn my camera on

I forgot to mention that in our friend group before, he used to ask very often to people like rose to activate their camera (activa cam???) which is absolutely weird, you can ask her, she will agree with what i'm saying.

More instances of his sexual harassment

As well there's some incredibly alarming requests being made of a 12 year old

All of this was explained more in depth in the exposal doc made about him which you can find here:

After all of this came out, regnom went into a frenzy, and since nobody would side with him on this he decided to take those original screenshots to make me look as bad as possible from the whole thing, this whole drama was resolved already when it first happened around February 2024 and you can ask anyone involved that regnom was just a horrible disgusting person.

Some quick things, I heard the argument that my shutting down of the sexual conversation was made before some of the most damning screenshots, and that's simply because of timezones. Regnom is french and im american, it makes sense that screenshots from his perspective were all a day later then what my screenshots make it seem like (which is why i retook them for this doc to hopefully clear all that confusion up)

And again i would like to reiterate that i know i fucked up by not shutting it down sooner, ive already dealt with the consequences of this back when it happened and i realize that i should've been more responsible, but in no way does this make me a pedophile. It's really baffling to me how the argument is being made that I wanted any of this to happen right after telling him to stop 3 separate times. Regnom is a sexual harasser and it is made very clear from these messages.

If you have any additional questions about this situation please don't hesitate to reach out to me or make a comment underneath the twitter post and I will try to explain myself to the best of my ability.

Quick edit: I have heard multiple people pointing out that this interaction was left out, which I didn't think was too relevant even though it was probably dumb to leave it out. All that was said here is that i "love dicks" (which is something he would have learned from being in my friend group while i was still 17), also heard this disputes my being uncomfortable claim even tho this literally is the only time in the entire conversation where i dont show clear signs of discomfort (keep in mind his goal was to falsely accuse me of pedophilia) (image below)
